

"Irene Outtrim," appearing tonight at the Orpheum Theater in the well known play "ARIZONA."

"Arizona" Opens New Stock Season at the Orpheum Tonight

"Arizona," the play of the south-west, with all its military atmosphere, love and hatred, pathos and humor, will be the attraction at the Orpheum theater, starting Sunday evening, May 8th, the opening attraction of the stock company, which will hold the boards at this theater for the summer season.

"Arizona" is from the pen of Mr. Augustus Thomas, one of our foremost dramatic writers, who is also responsible for "Alabama," "In Missouri" (which will also be produced by this company later) and many other well known plays which have enjoyed long runs in New York and Chicago. The story of "Arizona" deals with a Col. Bonham, who has married the daughter of Canby, the rancher, a girl very much younger than he is, and, although he is very much devoted to her, she falls in love with a Captain Hodgman, an officer in her husband's regiment, who possesses a certain hypnotic influence over her. He persuades her to take her jewels and money and elope with him, while her husband has been called away on duty. At the moment of their departure they are intercepted by Lieutenant Denton, who has learned of their flight by a letter which has fallen into the hands of Lena Keller, a daughter of Sergeant Keller, who has been ruined by this same Captain Hodgman. Denton forces Hodgman to give up the jewels and abandon their scheme, and tries to show Mrs. Bonham that she was not doing the right thing. In the midst of their scene Col. Bonham's voice is heard outside, and on the impulse of the moment she rushes to the door and turns the key, placing Denton in a very compromising position. She places him behind the curtains, telling him that the colonel has always been jealous of him. As the colonel steps into the room he immediately asks, "Where is Denton?" Hodgman told me he was here." She denies having seen him, when he turns to the window and discovers him. He asks for an explanation, and Denton, maintaining his silence, the colonel forces him to resign from the service.

The last two acts sees the straightening out of some very strong scenes, also a pretty love story between Lieutenant Denton and Bonita, the reconciliation of the colonel and his wife and also of Lena Keller and Tony, a Mexican cow-puncher, who shoots Hodgman. Mr. Noel Teavere will be seen as Lieut. Denton, Blanche Bryant as Bonita, Mr. Elmer Booth as Canby, Irene Outtrim as Col. Bonham's wife, Wm. Donovan as Tony, Verne Layton as Capt. Hodgman, Stanley Joannessen, Mr. Erickson as Keller. The rest of the company are well cast and a good performance is promised. The play runs all week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday at the Orpheum prices.

WHAT THE SHUBERT COMPANIES ARE DOING

WHAT THE SHUBERTS—Theatres The Shuberts have captured the M. Reis Theatrical Circuit, said to control upward of seventy-five theaters in cities in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Maryland and New Jersey. Mr. Reis, who has done his booking through the Theatrical Syndicate, has issued a statement declaring for the "Open Door" policy, and saying he "will play all the attractions controlled by the Messrs. Shubert, Lew Fields, William A. Brady, Liebler & Company and Dan Arthur, as well as those who are booked through the Klaw & Erlanger Agency."

Several weeks ago the Julius Cahn circuit of New England theaters joined the independent forces. More recently William A. Brady, one of the Syndicate's strongest allies, went over to the Shuberts. Mr. Reis has been affiliated with Klaw & Erlanger for fifteen years, and next to Julius Cahn and John Cort has control of more theaters throughout the country than any other individual.

John Cort has also turned his theaters over to the Shuberts.

It is reported that the Manhattan Opera House, which has been the New York home of Hommerstein's opera company, will be utilized by the Shuberts as a popular-priced theater. The house, one of the largest in New York, is but a block from the Pennsylvania terminal. When William A. Brady joined the Shuberts it was given out that William A. Brady, Inc. would build a theatre in Philadelphia. Report now has it that as the result of the consolidation of the two opera companies in New York and Philadelphia, the Shuberts and Mr. Brady will assume proprietorship of the Academy in the latter city.

According to present arrangements Forbes-Robertson will resume his tour of the Shubert Theaters in Brooklyn on October 17. Previous to this, two weeks will be played at Maxine Elliott's Theater.

HELEN WARE TO STAR IN DELIA OF THE SECRET SERVICE

Helen Ware, whose signal success in "The Road to Yesterday," and lately as Mrs. Howard Jeffries Jr., in Charles Klein's play, "The Third Degree," won her unusual distinction as the result of the consolidation of the two opera companies in New York and Philadelphia, the Shuberts and Mr. Brady will assume proprietorship of the Academy in the latter city.

MARINE NOTES.

Flushed with success won playing the title role of Bobby Burnit in Winchell Smith's new comedy, Wallace Eddinger sailed for Europe yesterday, where he will be one of a party of four in an automobile tour through France and Germany. Mr. Eddinger will return to New York the latter part of July to begin rehearsals of "Bobby Burnit," which opens in New York at a prominent Broadway theater early in August.

THEATRICAL NOTES

The Civic club of Philadelphia has begun the task of house cleaning the local drama. A dozen or more plays have been declared unfit for presentation. When the list was read by Miss Owen Wister it was found that "The Midnight Sons" was included. Thereupon a prominent member, having seen the musical piece, indignantly protested, declaring that "The Midnight Sons" is a clean and clever show.

Ethel Green, who is now playing one of the principal roles with De Wolf Hopper in "The Matinee Idol," at Daly's theater, New York, two years ago was a member of the chorus in "Happyland," in which Hopper starred.

Miss Mary Manning's appearance at the Garrick theater, Chicago, has been deferred for a week on account of the extension of time given Miss Mabel Hite.

The first anniversary of "The Midnight Sons" will be celebrated next week at the Lyric theater, Philadelphia.

Harold Crane has replaced Walter Percival in "The Jolly Bachelors."

An advocate will come forth eventually for the most criticized persons. A new history of the Medici, by Colonel G. F. Young, makes the members of that family appear to have been very good.

CLUB WOMEN TO TAKE PART IN THE PARADE

From whence do rumors come? How do they grow? They seem to sprout in darkness and grow to maturity in a single night like the mushrooms. Dame Rumor has it that the club women have withdrawn from the early closing movement, but Dame Rumor lies, for Hear! Hear! Let all men know that we, the club women of Ogden, are still backing the movement, and will be with it until the finish. At first we occupied the front seat in the band wagon, but we have willingly given that to the clerks, as it is their fight, and they should be at the front, while we are cheerfully and ably pushing for them. If we cannot be found in the parade itself, we will be found on the curbing and on the streets shouting—wearing the state club color, yellow, and loaded with the little tags, "I shop before 7 o'clock Saturday night. Do you?"

By thought comes action, through action progress; this is the motto of the U. F. W. C., and the furthering of the early closing movement proves that our motto is working and will continue to work until Utah is just to its workers and to its children. From the committee.

KATE S. HILLIARD, Secretary.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Prefaced by a praise service in which Mrs. C. H. Stevens, Mrs. Ashworth, Miss Wilcox and Mr. Saunders will take part, the theme of Mothers' Day service in the First Presbyterian church at the evening 8 o'clock service will be "The Encomium of Praise and the Heritage of Burdens Which the World Continually Bestows Upon Motherhood." The beauty of the mother's life and the hardships caused by sin, or unbalanced social conditions, has ever fallen upon the one least responsible for it, namely, the mother. The theme of this service has to do with the practical as well as the sentimental meaning of the day.

Sacred Heart Academy Notes

Special Correspondence

The month of May was ushered in at Sacred Heart with the usual enthusiasm. All the pupils gathered around Mary's altar and once more were heard the soulful strains of "Come Gather Round the Altar," which were reechoed in the "Hall Marys," with which each pupil responded most earnestly while saying the rosary.

On Thursday last a very pleasant surprise was given to the junior department of Sacred Heart in the way of a dainty luncheon in honor of the large number enrolled. The tables were daintily arranged and decked in the school colors—crimson and gold. A prize was awarded the most amiable junior, who was decided by vote to be Miss Maude Lennegar. Miss Alice Terrill was a lucky winner in a card game of 63.

Friday afternoon the graduating and under-graduating classes made a very good showing at extemporaneous speeches. The subjects were assigned as follows: Miss Krauss, "The Value of Shakespearean Studies"; Miss Jackson, "The True Spirit of a Typical Dutchman"; Miss Clause, "The Value of Attention"; Miss McNulty, "The Songs That Last"; Miss Hamilton, "The Influence of the French Language on Modern Society"; Miss Kennedy, "The Joy Derived From Well Doing"; Miss C. Ragan, "The Origin of Music"; Miss E. Tyler, "The Inventive Capacity of the American Mind"; Miss G. McNulty, "The Power of the Pen"; Miss G. Roberts, "What We Owe to Our American Poets"; Miss L. Mendes, "The Place Occupied by Washington Irving in American Literature"; Miss S. Beecher, "Character as Revealed by Life." Miss Edna Tierney and Miss Mary Murphy of Rawlins, Wyo., spent Saturday and Sunday in the city visiting Miss Loretto Malone, Sacred Heart, '09.

Mrs. A. Luman visited with her daughter, Miss Phyllis, a pupil of Sacred Heart. During her stay in the city she was the guest of Mrs. D. Sheehan.

A very pleasant surprise was given to Miss Winifred Kerchoff, a member of the first academic class, last Saturday, when the announcement was made that her parents were in the city to make their new home here.

ALLEGED VICIOUS CRIMINAL IN COURT

William Dokowitch, the Montenegrin, was arraigned before the judge of the municipal court yesterday on the charge of assault with intent to commit rape. The man, not being able to speak English, was represented by an interpreter, who stated that Dokowitch denied the charge.

The defendant was advised by the court that he was entitled to a speedy hearing, and also to the benefit of counsel, both of which he could have. He also was told that the clerk of the court would call counsel to see him if he so desired, and he could make such arrangements regarding the preliminary hearing as seemed best between them and the county attorney. In the meantime, the court stated, the defendant's bond for appearance in court would be fixed at $1,000.

Dokowitch is an absolute stranger in the community and is not acquainted with American customs. He told the interpreter that he is entirely innocent of wrongdoing, and that the parties instrumental in his arrest have misrepresented the case to the officers.

The complaint alleges that Dokowitch, on May 3rd, at the Central hotel, assaulted Mrs. Dominica Servente with intent to commit a crime. Mrs. Servente claims that she was ill at the time and was lying on her bed resting when the man accosted her.

Freddy Parents looks to be good for the season in center field for the White Sox.

MR. THEODORE LORCH AS "BUD LARRABEE" THE COWBOY IN "THE LIEUTENANT AND THE COWBOY" OGDEN THEATER TONIGHT.

Popular Stock Offering to Open at Theater Tonight

The Lieutenant and the Cowboy, in which Theodore Lorch and his excellent company will appear at the Ogden theater tonight, is a play with the scenes laid at a western Colorado military post about twenty years ago. The piece is from the pen of Anthony E. Willis and written solely for the use of Mr. Lorch with a view of fitting his particular style and character.

Mr. Lorch starred for two seasons in this play, and both he and the play are winning public esteem. This piece will run for two nights only.

Tuesday evening The Call of the Circus will be the offering. This play carries one along the life of circus people, picturing the many trials and pleasures of the ones in this walk of life. It is, frankly speaking, the most novel piece of dramatic writings yet before the public.

Thursday evening only you will have the pleasure of witnessing Mr. Lorch at what the public claims his best in the dual role of Dr. Jelkyl and Mr. Hyde, a dramatization of Robert Stevenson's weird story of the double life. Owing to the great strain on the nerves in playing this piece, Mr. Lorch will only be able to give one performance of this, as he is forced to take proper precautions in order to sustain his good health.

Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee a complete and special production will be given of the dramatization of Augusta J. Evans' famous novel, "St. Elmo."

The company consists of sixteen players, all possessing ability attained by constant and long service in this profession. Those of the company portraying prominent parts are: Mr. Lorch, Mr. Raymond Wells, Mr. Harry A. Bond, Mr. Jas. M. Hawley, Mr. Clara Hatten, Mr. Jimmie Ellis, Mr. William E. Dawes, Mr. Fred Doty, Mr. Wilfred McKay, Miss Ceil Fay, Miss Adele Bradford, Miss Marion Lord and Miss Dorothy Neale.

"FORTUNE HUNTER" SCORES A BIG HIT

New York and Chicago have liked Cohan & Harris' production of Winchell Smith's comedy, "The Fortune Hunter," so well that records have been made in both cities for long runs and capacity attendance. The story of the city chap who goes to a country town to work out the scheme whereby he is to win a fortune by leading the country heiress to propose marriage to him is full of bright lines, clever situations and, withal, carries a lesson true and appealing. When the play is sent on tour its reputation will have preceded it and it is predicted that "The Fortune Hunter" will hold triumphant houses throughout the country.

Enough bookings have been requested by theatre managers of the West, Northwest and Southwest to keep the play going more than two years on tour.

Good Offerings for Summer Months

During the next two weeks Ogden is to be well supplied with stock companies. The Lorch company comes to the Ogden Theater, Sunday night, and the Bungalow company comes to the Orpheum on the same night. The former will produce as its opening bill, "St. Elmo," while at the Orpheum "Arizona" will hold the boards. Both companies come from successful engagements in Salt Lake City, where they were well-received by the press and public.

The engagement of the Lorch company is for two weeks while that of the Bungalow company will be for the entire summer season. The last named company will be headed by Blanche Douglas and the Bungalow company which has been greatly strengthened for the Ogden engagement. The attractions to be offered are those popular successes which have enjoyed long runs in the eastern theaters.

The Lyceum theater will run through the summer months, offering the best vaudeville acts that can be secured on the circuit.

The moving picture houses, the Oracels and Globe will continue throughout the summer, but the Joie will be replaced during the summer by the new theater, the Alhambra, which will be erected on Washington avenue between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets. Until the new theater, for which plans are now being prepared, is completed the Joie will remain open.

It is stated that arrangements are being made for the securing of a house in Ogden by a vaudeville circuit which has a house in Salt Lake, to open during the early summer. While nothing definite is known at present in relation to the new house a representative of the company has been in Ogden looking over the field.

The building of an aridrome or open air theater for moving pictures and vaudeville and possibly musical comedy, it is stated, is receiving attention of local capitalists who will join with one or two eastern capitalists. The aridromes are popular in the east and proved to be successful from a financial point of view. From a reliable source, it has been learned that one or two locations have been investigated by the promoters of the company during the past ten days.

No press agent could have devised a better plan to keep former President Roosevelt before the public than the African trip and the return home. Most of the men who have been the chief executive of the nation have been forced to be content with a scant paragraph occasionally after they have left the White House. Incidentally the publicity is good for a campaign manager.
